

Term 4
Linguistics
Lesson 4

Language Teaching as a Field of Applied Linguistics

Moustafa Amrate
moustafa.amrate@univ-biskra.dz

English Department
University of Biskra

What is Applied Linguistics?

What is Applied Linguistics?

- Using theoretical language knowledge to solve real-world language-related problems.

What is Applied Linguistics?

- Using theoretical language knowledge to solve real-world language-related problems.
- Includes fields like:
Language teaching, translation, forensics,
speech therapy, neurolinguistics, sociolinguistics
....

Today's focus: Language teaching

Language teaching

Language teaching is the practical use of language knowledge (grammar, syntax, phonetics ...) to help learners improve their language skills (listening, speaking, reading, writing).

Why Language Teaching part of Applied Linguistics?

Why Language Teaching part of Applied Linguistics?

- Uses linguistic theory: phonology, syntax, etc.
- Solves real world problems: Improves learners' reading, writing, listening, speaking

How is language teaching different from teaching other subjects (e.g., Mathematics, physics ...)?

Characteristics of language teaching

Language teaching is unique because:

- All four skills are involved

Characteristics of language teaching

Language teaching is unique because:

- All four skills are involved
- Language is both a subject and a tool (We use language to teach language)

Characteristics of language teaching

Language teaching is unique because:

- All four skills are involved
- Language is both a subject and a tool (We use language to teach language)
- Language learning requires interaction and practice (not just memorization)

Characteristics of language teaching

Language teaching is unique because:

- All four skills are involved
- Language is both a subject and a tool (We use language to teach language)
- Language learning requires interaction and practice (not just memorization)
- Culture is important (e.g. English customs & idioms)

Language teaching approaches & methods

- Not all language classes are the same!

Language teaching approaches & methods

- Not all language classes are the same!
- Languages teaching follows several approaches and methods that developed throughout the 20s century

Historical development

- Ancient: Grammar-Translation
- Early 1900s: Direct Method
- Mid 1900s: Audiolingual
- 1970s+: Communicative Approach

1. Grammar-Translation Method (GTM)

- Focus: grammar rules, translation exercises

1. Grammar-Translation Method (GTM)

- Focus: grammar rules, translation exercises

Example:

Translate follow sentence into English.

- Je vais au marché
- I am going to the market.

2. Direct Method

- Focus: no translation, full immersion

2. Direct Method

- Focus: no translation, full immersion

Example:

Use visuals to teach vocabulary.

- Activity: Show picture of 'apple' and elicit word.

3. Audiolingual Method

- Focus: repetition
(drilling), mimicry, focus on correct pronunciation

3. Audiolingual Method

- Focus: repetition (drilling), mimicry, focus on correct pronunciation

Example:

Listen and repeat:

'She is eating.'

4. Communicative Language Teaching (CLT)

- Focus: real-life communication

4. Communicative Language Teaching (CLT)

- Focus: real-life communication

Example:

Role-play about “ordering food at a restaurant”

5. Task-Based Language Teaching (TBLT)

- Focus:
language through
meaningful tasks

5. Task-Based Language Teaching (TBLT)

- Focus:
language through
meaningful tasks

Example:

Film a documentary about global warming (to learn vocabulary about nature in the process)

Which Method is Best?

Which Method is Best?

- No single best method.
- Depends on learners, context, and goals.
- Many teachers use an eclectic approach.

Final Reflection

- Which method do you prefer?

Final Reflection

- Which method do you prefer?
- What methods do your teachers use?